

David Howe

I am strongly OPPOSED to this rule proposal. It is totally impractical considering the high cost of electric vehicles and the lack of infrastructure for producing electric power. I would hope that the Department of Ecology would exercise some mature judgement in this regard.