

Luke Chermak

Do not ban the sale of ANY gas vehicles. The market will drive which vehicles people want. Electric vehicles are nice but they are not for everyone and for all conditions. The electric grid can not handle all of the vehicles and is there is an emergency such as an earthquake electric infrastructure will not support evacuation as show with fire evacuations.