

Ray Mongrain

Our power grid will not support all the required/forced purchase of electric cars. Also trucks have extremely poor range and ability to be used as needed.

Not everyone can afford to purchase these electric cars. Myself and many others have never been able to afford new cars.

From what I have read along with forced purchase of electric cars, there has been action to prevent any gas powered cars being financed by a bank loan.

Bad idea that will harm all but the most wealthy of our State. Also WE ARE NOT CALIFORNIA and resent the forcing of California failed programs. If you do not know, we are a long way from the liberal's way to the south of us. Most of the nation uses fossil fuel to generate electric power.

Even WA is dependent on fossil to currently provide enough power right now.

This move is folkish and being done without the citizen's authorization or vote.