

Stephen J Turner

No infrastructure to support proposal. Cost too high for most people to buy. You are using this to punish working class folks for wanting reasonable prices for transportation and having a support structure for the change. Junk science being used as justification for your feeling justified about your decision at the expense of others.