

Karen Doornink

Looking to the actual carbon footprint of Electric Vehicles it is a great strain on our planets fossil fuels than our current vehicles. This will do nothing in the long run for us. Please look into the research that is not just "for" what you would like to do and get a better rounded knowledge base than what is trending from the state of California.