Uhh didnt you all lawmakers see that CA governor recently told EV owners not to charge their cars because of the power grid and having rolling blackouts. My friend had an EV drove from FL to D.C. every month and he only could drive 2.5 hours and had to search for a charge station and charge for 4 hours. Nope not doin it I will walk or hitch hike before I would even be able to afford one, let alone buy one. Thanks but NO
