

Tarrah Rees

This is completely ridiculous. Please stop this madness. Do not ruin our state anymore. We need gas powered vehicles and cannot sustain only electric or alternative powered vehicles. As you know, there is another side of the coin with the manufacturing and disposal of the batteries that go into the electric vehicles that is actually worse for the environment than the carbon footprint. We are all part of the world and should have our own choices on how or what we want to drive. Please, stop this push on making people think that they are doing a better job of going green without all of the facts. The narrative is not being sold with honesty.