

William Geloneck

This is just another example of how the far-left want to impose their ideology on us "minions" while they do not practice what they preach. Q: Where is all the electricity going to come from to charge EVs? Until some new source (not solar, not wind) is discovered, SOMETHING has to provide electricity to charge EVs. Meanwhile, China, India and other nations spew pollutants into the atmosphere willy-nilly while the libs destroy our economy and standard of living. These people need to be thrown out of office.
