

Brenda Klos

Washington state and the Country do not have a meaningful way to produce clean energy, not the infrastructure to support electric cars on a large scale. Nor are the cost of electrical cars attainable for many of our populace which is discriminatory.