

Bruce Wilson

I oppose this proposed change. The very idea that the government could force me to purchase a specific type of vehicle is repugnant and decidedly un-American. The Department of Ecology is not an elected body and so this decision will ultimately be a decision of the people, We have neither the infrastructure nor the mechanisms needed for electric vehicles.