

Susan Spier

In order to accomplish your goal of no fossil fuel vehicles by 2035, what are your plans to: 1. Improve the electric grid to accommodate all EV vehicles? 2. What is this going to cost the tax payers? 3. How do you intend to dispose of the noxious chemicals contained in the very expensive EV vehicle batteries? From what I've observed so far, the answers to these questions are not being addressed to the public.