

Kasey Frix

Securing energy independence for our state and country is more important than regulations that will negatively impact working people.