

Linda Baker

Please stop following California's initiatives and come up with your own on what is best for Washingtonians. Our job market is not the same nor is the expectation of lifestyle demands. We have farmers, loggers, fishermen, and tons of other blue collar workers that make an honest living as-is. We do not need to force people to drive an e-vehicle or spend the money to convert their work equipment to zero emissions. That is not how to support the people of WA. Continuing to demand initiatives like this only furthers my support in looking for other Governor candidates for the next term.
