

David Dunbar

I fully support the measures to transition to EVs. As the Limiting Greenhouse Gas Emissions Act found, to prevent the worst consequences of global warming we must make precarious reductions in ghg emissions and do so as soon as possible. It will be costly but study after study shows that the social costs of carbon exceed the costs of decarbonizing the energy sector.