

Keith Forsberg

I am concerned that a new environmental problem will be created from the battery disposal of used EV battery packs. Whatever legislation is created should address this issue. I would like to see that the EV manufactures are made responsible for used EV battery re-cycling. I also think that there should be some consideration for Hydrogen powered vehicles and Hybrid vehicles. These alternatives could help ease the impact to the electrical power grid.