

Claude Bennington

Where does electricity come from?

What sources of electricity are dependable?

Wind power and solar power are not sustainable and created in enough volume to supply the needs of the world.

The destruction of coal, oil and gasoline as sources of power for manufacturing , heating and transportation in America is a self imposed ruin imposed by a misguided radical leftist liberal political agenda meant to turn the world into a totalitarian dystopian entity.