Unfortunately this proposed bill is Idiocracy. It takes over half 1,000,000 tons of mining to create one 1000 pound electric battery hence negating any benefit that vehicle will have over its life with regards to CO2 emissions. Secondly, over 95% of those electric vehicles are being charged via electric power generated by renewable resources such as coal and gas. Unfortunately Mr. Inslee and his team are very shortsighted and they need to... Follow the science! If Mr. Inslee would stop purchasing anything that moves his family forward on a daily basis... Meaning anything that is tracked in via gas powered vehicles... Then I may be a bit more open minded. However, that is not the case nor ever will ever be so
