

Catherine Coleman

This is absurd. Families already cannot afford rent or to buy a home, and to make everyone buy electric cars which they pay to run? Double prices. Cars need to be flex, not all electric. baby steps is more prudent