

Paul Magnussen

I am opposed to banning new internal combustion vehicles. This will only hurt low income people who can't afford electric vehicles. It also would eliminate hybrid vehicles which are a more practical solution since all electric vehicles are limited in range. It also a slippery slope towards a total ban on all gas vehicles which is NOT acceptable. Some people drive classic cars and will NEVER give them up!