

Ross Watkinson

In general moving to fast on the clean air initiative will destroy the middle and lower class. We can not afford and EV. We should not be punished for our social economic situation by a bunch of folks that have never worked in the private sector.