

Karen Graff

I'm against making gas powered engines illegal. EV's are very expensive. We have two in our garage with chargers that are expensive to install. Lovely cars but are not good for everything a vehicle is needed. Average wage earners will not be able to afford them. In addition I don't believe green energy from these type of batteries are really green. The mining, the labor of slave or near slave labor to get the materials, and the disposal of old batteries remind me of the disposal of nuclear waste. Plus the pollution of tires wearing out early due to the weight of the EV. This does not add up to a positive environment reason for imposing EV on every one. Vote against the requirements to force EV on everyone.