Batteries for electric cars are worse than using gas and diesel for the environment. There are limited stations to charge your vehicle. What happens when you have a crash on the freeway and then everyone runs out of power I their vehicle?

California is constantly having to have blackouts due to not having enough power and that isn't even with everyone having electric vehicles. This is not a plan that is set up for success.

I love the effort to help the environment but I don't think this is the answer.

Please work to start thinning our forests again so we can stop having forest fires all throughout the west coast.
