

Anthony Barba

Banning the purchase of gasoline vehicles only creates larger global problems. EV's are toxic to the environment and create 10x the pollution when compared to gas vehicles. No government should have the right to tell people how they should spend their money. I will never buy an EV vehicle. They are worthless and break down all the time. We also do not have a power grid to support such an endeavor. This Odeon is crazy. Stop now.