

Michael Siptroth

WA State is feeling the effects of climate change right now and if we don't take strong action being now, it will become much, much worse! The toughest rules for vehicles starting this year and continuing into the future will give us a firm target to reach!