

Dan Moline

The ban on gas powered cars, I am OPPOSED! No real science. I do find this rule a threatening Authoritarian ban and against the constitution in more ways than one. I want to see all government politicians comply with this ban first! You give up your vehicles to meet the 35% the 68% and the 100%. The cost of these cars not worth it, depreciate in value and a lot them are catching on fire, a complete safety hazard while driving the cost of our electricity rates and putting a a strain on our electrical grid. Just look at California, rolling black outs, can not charge your EV.