

Larry Jensen

Are you kidding...why would you want to make us more dependent on fewer choices of fuel. We need more choices not less. The best economy is one that has lots of competitive choices. Choices drive efficiencies and competition drives us to better products at lower prices.

Stop the censorship of choice .... it is just too much in too many places including in energy.