I'll take this change to electric cars seriously when multiple government officials quits flying around the US in separate airplanes for a day or two rather than staying in WA DC or their states to conduct the business that should be addressed rather than campaigning. WA State also does not need another airport, leave Pierce County as rural as possible for the sake of no more trees being taken down and a place for wildlife to live. Sound Transit has ruined the freeways taking down so many old growth evergreens for their concrete train tracks. I also do not believe we have the power grid for charging the EV's and what on earth are we going to do with the old gas autos and disposal of the EV batteries?!
