

Anonymous Anonymous

Let the marketplace decide what we as individuals will purchase. It is not the governments role to dictate our choices. Not only that, but the infrastructure to support all electric vehicles would not be in place for years, and at what cost? Do we not use heat or lights so we can charge a car?