

Carl Olson

I fully support the "clean vehicle" targets currently under consideration by the Department of Ecology. This will add to the reduction of global warming and help insure a healthier planet for generations to come while, at the same time, providing economic stimulus.