

Caulder Bradford

This is absolute lunacy. EV's will not solve any climate issues, and will instead exacerbate the problem by necessitating the mining of rare earth minerals, further taxing a strained electrical grid, and are being shown to underperform and under-live ICE cars. We need more common sense solutions to pollution and environmental concerns. EV's are merely a cash-in for investors who have placed positions on this new emerging industry.