

Jina Avila

As a legal resident of Washington State and a registered voter I oppose the banning of fossil fuels and forcing private automotive industry to do so to the detriment of the American people, causing more damage to the environment by mining lithium for electric cars