

Janet Lehwald

Cleaning up the mess we have made in the air (not to mention the rest of our habitat) is the most valuable thing we can do. I depend on and support the people who have made this their area of expertise and concern to figure out how to do that. Thanks for all you can do!!