

Anthony Andrews

I strongly oppose the approval of new diesel generators for this data center. We can't allow diesel to become the default power source for new data centers. We must require cleaner energy sources. Approving this application would undermine the state's climate commitments. We must do better.