

Stephanie Tejas

I want to express my concerns about the idea these generators are "emergency" but they are saying to produce multiple tons of emissions per year? As if the generators are supposed to be supplying power regularly? Are they that unreliable? If this is the way Quincy is doing business it's no wonder everyone's moving away! No one is listening to longtime residents at all but want facebook $. Support this if you love big power bills.