

Karen Gibson

No. Enough is enough. More data centers using up space and resources for technology that will destroy jobs is not what WA needs. The public that will have to live around these proliferating centers deserve to be protected, not encroached upon simply to deliver processing speed for technologies that serve no benefit to the regular janejoes. Just say no.