

Sophia C.

As a Washingtonian I have so much love for my home state, I absolutely do not want these natural gas generators built in this beautiful state that would only supply energy to AI data centers. We are demanding the rejection of this permit and asking for a public hearing. Washington is such a beautiful state and we can't continue to threaten it with natural gas generators that would ultimately bring toxic air pollution and 187,000 tons of climate-wrecking greenhouse gas emissions. So many of our elected officials are committed to environmental protections and approving this permit shows exactly where their priorities lie. If our elected officials are truly committed to improving the environment then denying this permit would be a no-brainer. I urge you to reject this permit and hold a public hearing to assess the environmental damage this will cause to our beautiful state.