

Denise Rivera

Please get this law passed ASAP. I'm am 💎 for holding manufacturers accountable for toxic ingredients, they Should provide lists. Please align with the European Union on this. They have banned these toxic chemicals for years. I do not agree that more time is need for formaldehyde releasing products. Manufacturers have long known what they are putting in their products, they have been sent numerous letters from OSHA and the FDA and made no changes. It is time to hold them accountable and that time is now. There are products that Do Not contain these chemicals and work wonderfully. It just takes a little research. Please step up and ban these chemicals from products, they are literally killing us.