Woodstream Corporation

I have found the way to certify our products is very vague. Is there a website we go to; do we upload a certification that our product are in compliance? Is there an address we would mail the certification to? Please advise.