

n/a Anonymous

thank you for caring for those who don't have the tools or the right information to know about the toxics that we put in our bodies on a daily basis. This is a topic that is close to my heart since I have lost people to cancer that could have prevented in the right information would have been provided. my question is... why are corporations able to poison us? Is there anything we can do? I feel so powerless.