

Judy Pigott

Hello — my goal is to provide a brief comment on the permit application. I have visited the website that purports to support this goal, and read that the links are broken. Therefore I'm typing and email in this fashion.

From what I've read and researched, this current approach to increasing the safety of workers & members of the public near the waste-holding tanks at Hanford has great promise. It should be tested thoroughly, of course. If the hazardous tank vapors in air emissions from the waste tanks can be controlled and largely (or fully) eliminated, then other plans to move the wastes can proceed without incurring further danger of damage to anyone.

Please proceed — thank you, Judy Pigott
