

Washington Public Ports Association

The public cannot engage in a dialogue among interested parties. As I understand it, the agency won't release the names of participants. As a result, the Department of Ecology is the sole filter of public dialogue. This is a big problem.