

bp

GHG seems to be the focus, but the scope of GHG is unclear - how far upstream and how far downstream will be considered? And, do WA state actually have the authority to regulate those calculated emissions?