My name's Rebecca Conden—I'm with the Washington Environmental Council of (inaudible). I totally support the points that Amanda made. You know, Ecology is evaluating and recognizing that it's important to understand the full scope of greenhouse gas emissions, both indirect and direct emissions and it's part of the (inaudible)...lay the foundation for how project proponents (inaudible) looking at, and evaluating greenhouse gas emissions as projects (inaudible for several seconds) (inaudible) (inaudible)...the rest of it.
That's my comment for today, thank you.
