

Pamela Hastings

Please be Very, Very careful with approval of ANY net pens in our waters. This practice has a high potential to impact our natural ecosystems. Any work in this area must include components that recycle the wastes the system produces. Fish farming has a huge potential to adversely impact our natural ecosystems, which have already been adversely affected by the paper mills. I think it is a BAD idea!