Good job!

The hard work put in by Ecology staff during SMA rulemaking has resulted in regulations that will be a great help as we adapt to climate change.

I strongly support the requirement for vulnerability assessments and their use in planning as well as the concept of "areas exposed to sea level rise hazards" and the requirements for projects in those areas. These rules along with improved monitoring and compliance will help protect ecological function, people, and property as our climate warms and seas rise.

Thank you!

Sincerely,
Greg Ferguson
