

Jason Weil

I appreciate the analysis and clarity of the scoping document. I hope you will additionally consider aspects of environmental justice for other marginalized communities who are impacted by displacement. Your point about the dominance and increasing safety of lithium ion batteries is valid, but I think you should also consider the new chemistries being deployed for safety and cost as part of the mix. Please also consider the longer term environmental benefits that BESS may provide by reducing the need for carbon emitting power sources.