

Laurie Baker

So a lithium battery powered golf cart exploded with no warning on the Willows run golf course in Redmond last week. Yet people think it a good idea to build a facility on Snoqualmie ridge the windiest place in King County. I think its clear this is not a safe power alternative

