

Alex Smith

The use of unprocessed human feces as fertilizer is a risky practice as it may contain disease-causing pathogens. ... The safe reduction of human excreta into compost is possible. Some municipalities create compost from the sewage sludge, but then recommend that it only be used on flower beds, not vegetable gardens. **NOT SURE WHY THIS IS EVEN A QUESTION IF THESE FACTS HAVE ALREADY BEEN DETERMINED****