

Kathleen Reynolds

To decrease food waste going to landfills and creating planet-warming methane, Washington's rules for organic need clear definitions, contamination limits, and policies that prioritize waste prevention, food donation, and maximum diversion of recyclables and organic. Thank you.