

Terri Weiner

I understand that under these rules machines which ruin both the compostable materials and the packaging which could be recycled would be excluded from regulation. This doesn't lighten our load on the planet and only makes more money for a few corporations. We need to take the waste and pollution problems seriously and require careful separation.

Thank you for your efforts to reduce Washington's damaging impacts on the planet.